

Exciting new book just released through McFarland & Company encompassing the early road racing days in Las Vegas, full of intrigue weaving together famous gangsters and even more famous world renown race drivers. The early sections drag on a bit with extensive detail regarding real estate deals, politics and questionable characters but it sets the scene for all things racing to come.

This is an especially good read for those who are involved with the California Sports Car Club and the SCCA as there is great history of the Club's involvement sanctioning the races and running the show over those 7 years.

Randy Cannon, one of the authors, will be doing a book signing November 10th, 10AM to 2 PM at Autobooks, 2900 W. Magnolia Blvd., Burbank, CA 91505. Come on over buy a book and meet the author.
